

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

Marketing VF Limited (“MVF” / “we”/ “our”) is committed to corporate social responsibility, and to understanding and safeguarding its business and supply chain from modern slavery and human trafficking.

MVF is an award-winning company that provides a scalable source of new customers to businesses all over the world. MVF’s technology and world-class cross-channel marketing teams help connect active customers with businesses looking to scale.

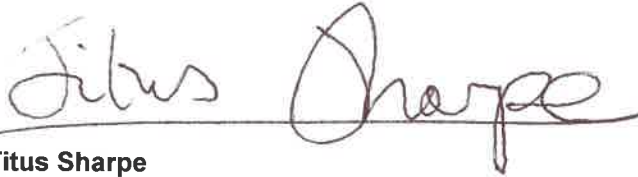

We procure different services and products from a number of suppliers.

The vast majority of our procurement spend is on services, and mainly in the following areas: Online marketing/advertising, IT/cloud-based solutions, and office premises and facilities. Many of the service providers with which we work are large multinational business (e.g. Google, Facebook).

Most of the products that we purchase are IT equipment (e.g. laptops, telephones). Again, in the main, we purchase such items from large multinational businesses (e.g. Dell).

Given the nature of our business, we believe that the risk of modern slavery or human trafficking in our business or supply chain is very low.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015. It has been approved by MVF’s Board of Directors, and constitutes MVF’s modern slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending 31 March 2016.

Titus Sharpe
CEO
Marketing VF Limited
23 November 2016